

Ar'chay Alexander (she, her, hers)

Child Advocacy Center Family Advocate

Ar'chay, is the Family Advocate for the Children Advocacy Center (CAC) in Kalamazoo. She was born and raised in Kalamazoo, Michigan. She received her Bachelors of Science Degree from Eastern Michigan University. As a advocate, Ar'chay works closely with the families who visit the CAC assuring identified needs are being met. She meets with child victims of abuse and their non-offending family members upon their initial visit to the CAC, provide information about the CAC processes and help connect families with resources and referrals. She continues to provide ongoing support and advocacy to the families after their visit to the CAC. Ar'chay enjoys working with families of diverse backgrounds. She has a passion for advocacy and assisting in anyway to better the lives of families at the CAC and in the community. Ar'chay has worked in the human service field since 2016. She joined the CAC team in February 2021. Ar'chay is a loving mother of three sons, she enjoys spending time with family, taking naps, traveling to new places, and running a decorative business with her mother.