Therapist

My name is Renee Rehmel, and I am a clinical SUD (substance use disorder) therapist currently working at the Niles, Community Healing Centers office. I began my education in 1999 while serving in the military, and ultimately earned my Master of Social Work from Andrews University in 2016.

I am a Limited License MSW, but am studying for my licensure with a goal of being fully licensed by the fall of 2022. I am also CAADC (Certified Advances Alcohol and Drug Counseling) certified.

I am a wife and a mother to three sons, as well as an ARMY veteran who spent eight years with the MI ARMY National Guard. I am a survivor of trauma, and enjoy working with diverse groups of people. I love to see my clients leave my office or group sessions feeling understood, validated, educated, and empowered.
